

USE & CARE

Thank you for purchasing an AFS-TEX product and we are sure you will enjoy its unique anti-fatigue and ergonomic properties.

In order to get the best results please note the following.

- 1) The mat should be laid on a flat and even indoor floor.
- 2) Do not wear high heeled or stiletto foot wear while using the mats as this could result in puncturing of the mat surface.
- 3) Ensure the mat surface is kept clean. Grit or other debris on the mat surface could cause damage to the surface from foot movement friction.
- 4) Only clean the mat using mild soap and water. Ensure the mat is totally dry, top and bottom, before further use.
- 5) Do not fold the mats as this is liable to create excess material strain and damage.
- 6) Do not use caster based chairs on the mats.
- 7) Do not anchor mats with heavy objects or furniture.
- 8) AFS-TEX 2000 and 3000 models have 20 degree ADA trip hazard compliant bevelled edges but for added safety, position your mat under your desk and away from walkways when not in use.

AFS-TEX 5000 (in addition to the above)

- 9) Use the raised Ergobar to gently push or pull the mat into position with your foot as required. Ensure that, when doing so, no part of the mat is anchored to the floor. Pulling or pushing the mat via the Ergobar when the mat is anchored will cause excess material strain and could result in damage.
- 10) The AFS-TEX 5000 includes raised ergonomic features to maximize its effectiveness. Push the mat under your desk when not in use to avoid potential trip hazards.
